OIL KING PLANS FAMILY DOMAIN

Buying Property for Magnificent Estate in New York.

TO BUILD FOUR MANSIONS

Will Eclipse in Grandeur Show Place of Andrew Carnegie.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) New York, June 24.—John D. Rockefeller's wholesale purchases of property in Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Streets, near Fifth Avenue, have not been, as was at first supposed, for the purpose of securing an ample plot of ground for the erection of a Rockefeller memorial church, but with a view of establishing a Rockefeller domain in the most fashionable section of New York in which to domicile his entire family.

This Rockefeller estate, when completed according to plans now in the hands of William Welles Bosworth, the Fifth Avenue architect, will be the most magnificent in the city. Mr. Rockefeller now owns approximately 150 feet on Fifty-fourth street and 120 feet on Fifty-fifth street. The depth of the land fronting on street is a little over 200 feet. On each corner of the estate will be a mansion, and lying between will be a splendid garden, laid out by one of the best landscape artists in the country. It is said that ultimately Mr. Rockefeller will own the better part of the block and turn it all into an estate which will eclipse in grandeur even the magnificent property of Andrew Carnegie. Unlike Mr. Carnegie's beautiful place, it will not face on Central Park.

The purchase of the desired property has been a slow and painstaking task, and Mr. Rockefeller has been obliged to pay what real estate agents regard as outrageously exorbitant prices.

The last piece of property secured was the home of Colonel John J. McCook, at 10 West Fifty-fourth Street, for which $250,000 was paid. Architectural plans have been commenced to build on this plot for young Mr. Rockefeller a residence to cost $250,000. Between it and Mr. Rockefeller's house will be two plots, and these will be transformed into a garden.

It is hinted also that eventually Mrs. Harbord F. McCormick, Mr. Rockefeller's daughter, who now lives in Chicago, will come to New York, and that a home will be built for her at 9 West Fifty-third Street, the southwest corner of the estate. Then Mr. Rockefeller will have his entire family living on the one estate, one member on each corner of the plot, with a beautiful garden in between. This will necessitate the tearing down of several of the houses now standing.
